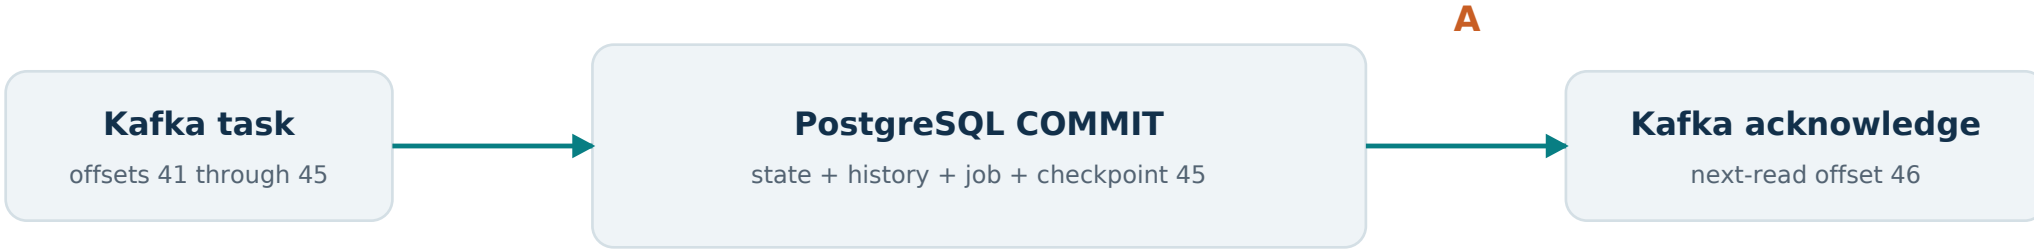
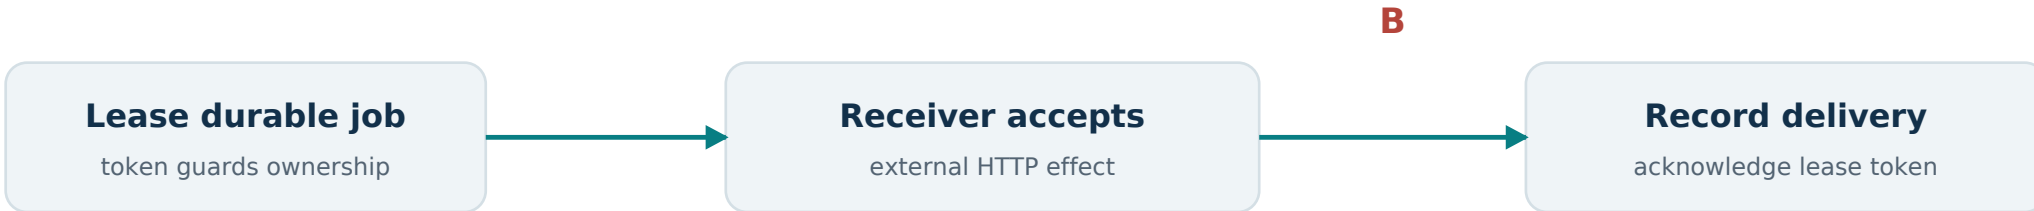
Two different acknowledgement boundaries



A: lost response after COMMIT -> replay finds durable progress; no second database effect.



B: lost response after acceptance -> retry may repeat the external effect.

Receiver idempotency is needed for unique external acceptance. A database transaction cannot decide that outcome.